About the Festival: Each year the Oklahoma Chapter of the Percussive Arts Society sponsors a State Percussion Festival allowing for guest performers and artists to present quality programs for interested student and professional musicians in the region. This year's festival will feature two guest performances by Ji Hye Jung and line upon line percussion trio (follow the links above to find out more about these artists). The festival will also showcase high school and university percussion ensembles. A solo and chamber music recital for high school performers and university performers is also scheduled. To inquire about festival participation for your percussion ensemble, as a soloist or as a chamber musician, contact Dr. David Bessinger. All events are free and open to the public.
