FS Motion 2008-2-01:
It was moved and seconded that the following paragraph replace paragraph 3 under B.

3. The Departmental/Division Continuance Committee will consist of the tenured members of the department or division except the department chair and/or associate dean. The Committee will meet and consider the strengths and weaknesses of the faculty candidate for continuance.

In the event that the number of tenured faculty members in a department and/or division is fewer than five (5), the committee shall be comprised of three (3) tenured members of the department and/or division.

In the event that the number of tenured members in a department and/or division is fewer than three (3), the committee shall be comprised of the department and/or division’s tenured members plus the department and/or division’s most senior faculty to create a committee of five (5). (Such a committee could be comprised only of the five senior members of the department and/or division if the department and/or division has no tenured faculty.)

In the event that a department and/or division is too small to create such a committee, then that department and/or division may create a committee of three (3) comprised of the tenured members of the department and/or division and the most senior members of the department and/or division to bring the committee number up to three (3). (Such a committee could be comprised only of the three senior members of the department and/or division if the department and/or division has no tenured faculty.)

In any case, the committee will not include the individual under consideration and first year faculty members.

The Departmental/Division Continuance Committee shall select one of its own recommending members to chair the meeting. Following discussion of the candidate, a vote is taken on recommendation to “Grant” or “Deny” Continuance. Each vote is by separate, standardized secret ballot; ballots are prepared in advance but not distributed until discussion on a candidate is completed. Majority rule decides the recommendation. In the case of a tie vote (including abstaining votes which count as “Deny”) the recommendation is deny. The vote will be confidential. The committee chair will hold on to the ballots until the conclusion of the entire continuance process.

The committee chair shall record the recommendation, compile a written summary of the rationale, share the summary with the committee for approval, and sign the recommendation. Once the committee chair has prepared this report, it must be forwarded to the Department Chair/Associate Dean by October 15.

The motion passed by voice vote.
